PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings Everyone,

Here it is almost March; the first two months of a very wet 2017 have already passed us by. Saw one of the major news channels refer to our atmospheric river winter as Drought to Deluge and that pretty much says it. Hope none of you had any serious weather related issues.

My new strategy for getting to our Thursday night meetings is to leave mid-afternoon around 3 pm and visit the Pacific Pinball Museum in Alameda to entertain myself prior to our meeting. This will allow me to relive the Pinball Wizard days of my youth. While I doubt I can still balance on one foot while I finesse the pinball machine I should still have a few laughs. By carefully using surface streets I hope to avoid the 880 gridlock going from Alameda to The Englander for the meeting. Couple of months until I give this a try, works great on paper!

Our next meeting is FRIDAY 3/3 at The Englander with an 11:30 AM start time. We realize not everyone will make it but will roll the dice seeing how it goes as we try to reduce the number of Thursday night meetings. Main topic will be event ideas for the remainder of the year. Those of you that have ideas and can't make the meeting please send them to me.

GGG April meeting will be held at Jack's Prime in San Mateo on Saturday the 15th. Let's meet at 10:30 am, flyer to follow. A couple of ideas I had for what to do after the meeting include Go Kart racing at Go Kart Racer in Burlingame www.gokartracer.com OR a visit to the Filoli estate in Woodside www.filoli.org We need a minimum guarantee of 8 participants to have our own session for Go Cart racing at a cost of approximately $50 each for 20 minutes of track time. Reservation required. Fun rain or shine option. For Filoli the easiest way to visit is for us to self- tour with everyone paying general admission of $20 and touring on their own versus trying to do a group docent lead tour. Filoli has recently added a number of fees for group tours so self-tours seem best here. Filoli can be a rain or shine event, heavy rain would probably cancel. For now those of you that are confident you will make it please e mail me your choice of what you would like to do at mitygto@aol.com If Filoli is a landslide win we can always go Go Cart racing another Saturday perhaps next January or February ????????

We round out April on Sunday the 30th with our annual visit to the Benicia Car Show once again hosted by Stuart Cole. Always a fun time.....

See ya in the fast lane

Prez John

San Leandro man, Fremont-built GTO go back a long way

Classic '65 Pontiac to be displayed today at Goodguys 20th Autumn Get-Together

By Jason Sweeney

jsweeney@bayareanewsgroup.com

SAN LEANDRO — Like a vision from a bygone era, the 1965 Pontiac GTO rumbles out of its garage ready to tear up California streets.

San Leandro resident George Schober is at the wheel of this Mayfair maize 360 horsepower muscle car that he has kept in mint condition since the day he watched it roll off the assembly line at the old GM plant in Fremont.

The plant and Pontiac are now fading into history, but Schober's GTO, and plenty of good memories, remain.

Schober loves talking about his car — his baby — at car shows throughout the Bay Area.

"When people find out that I'm the original owner, it just lights them up," he said.

Schober is a member of the Golden Gate Goats GTO club and the Goodguys Rod and Custom Association. Today, Schober is at the Goodguys 20th Autumn Get-Together car show at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton.

Schober, 66, was born in Germany during World War II. His father, a German soldier, was captured on the eastern front shortly after Schober was born.

His father was held in a Soviet prison camp for six years before being released and returning to Germany, where he died a year later, Schober said.

In 1953, at age 10, Schober, his 10 siblings and his mother followed family members to San Leandro, where they hoped to find a brighter future.

Times were tough and everyone in the family worked to make ends meet.

Then, at age 21, Schober landed a job as a spray booth cleaner and a sweeper cleaning up cardboard on the factory floor at the GM plant in Fremont. Even for such menial labor, the pay was good — about $15 an hour, he recalled — with full benefits and a pension plan.

"It was a secure job," he said. "You knew you were set for life."

Schober used a $600 employee discount to purchase a new GTO, for which he paid $3,000 in 1965. He had the rare privilege of watching the car being built as it came down the line.

"I was working for GM and I wanted to support GM, you know. I've always had American (vehicles), and I've always owned GM."

Schober remembers good times in the 1960s, cruising up and down East 14th Street in his new car, and going to drive-in movies with up to four friends hidden crammed in the trunk to get in without paying.

In 1967, while in his mid-20s, he had to leave his job at the plant because he had been drafted into the Army.

After completing basic training, he came home to San Leandro to get his GTO, and he and a friend drove Route 66 to their first duty station at Fort Hood, Texas, where Schober was assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division.

Before being sent to Vietnam as a door gunner on a Huey helicopter, Schober drove his GTO to a Maryland farm where a friend let him park it in a barn.

"It was the best place to leave it, never knowing if I would be coming back from there," he said.

When Schober had served the required two

ANDACHU/STAFF

George Schober still has the GTO that he watched roll off the assembly line in 1965, when he was working as a floor sweeper at the GM plant in Fremont.

years, he returned home in 1969 and went back to work at the GM plant, where he worked his way up to repairman. When GM closed the Fremont plant in 1982, he was transferred to a plant in Kansas City.

"I left my car here in San Leandro with my mom," he said, explaining that the salt and sand used on the streets in Missouri during the winter were hard on cars. "If I would've taken it with me, it probably would have been destroyed."

Schober later was transferred to Shreveport, La., and then back to Kansas City before retiring from GM in 1994.

He returned to San Leandro a short time later to care for his mother who still lived in the home he grew up in. She died at age 98 in 2006.

For Schober, the car has been a big part of his life and is a piece of American history. He said it's a shame what has happened to GM.

"It's kind of heartbreaking," he said. "All these foreign cars came in and they just took over."

While GM's stock has fallen, not so for Schober's GTO. He estimates the car is worth $65,000. He might consider selling it if someone offered $100,000, but added, "It would be like giving up my arm to let it go."

Schober said if you see him at the Alameda County

Fairgrounds this weekend, come by and say hi. He'd love to tell you all about his GTO.
